WORKPLACE READINESS & LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

Somakodi's Workplace Readiness and Leadership Program is a focused, 1-month course designed to equip learners with essential soft skills for personal and professional success in today's competitive job market. The program emphasizes communication, leadership, problem-solving, teamwork, and emotional intelligence all critical skills that employers value across every industry.

Whether you attend our engaging in-person sessions or join us through our interactive online platform, this program is structured to build your confidence, mindset, and ability to thrive in any workplace environment. By the end of the course, you will have acquired the tools, strategies, and self-awareness necessary to lead yourself and others effectively, and to distinguish yourself as a well-rounded professional.

PREREQUISITES

This is a beginner-friendly Program, no prior professional experience is required. While some participants may have held professional roles or engaged in personal development before, no formal background in leadership or soft skills training is necessary. Whether you're just starting your career or looking to strengthen your workplace confidence and communication, our curriculum is designed to equip you with the tools, strategies, and best practices employers value, including effective communication, time management, collaboration, emotional intelligence, and goal setting all delivered through practical, real-world scenarios.

Our Admissions Team is happy to learn more about your background and goals to help you determine if this program is the right fit for your personal and professional growth.

Why learn Soft skills

1. Build Confidence in the Workplace

Gain the communication, collaboration, and interpersonal skills that help you speak up, lead projects, and contribute meaningfully in any work environment.

Who is this course for?

- Anyone Seeking to Improve Workplace Confidence:

Maybe you're shy speaking up in meetings, unsure how to network, or struggling with professional communication. This course is a safe, supportive space to build confidence, self-awareness, and the soft skills you need to thrive and grow.

- Aspiring Leaders:

You don't need a management title to be a leader. Whether you're a student, intern, junior employee, or entrepreneur, this course helps you build leadership from the inside out. You'll learn how to manage yourself, motivate others, take initiative, and lead by example foundational traits for those aiming to influence and inspire.

- Students in Technical or Vocational Programs

Technical skills open doors, but soft skills keep them open. If you're training to be a developer, technician, data analyst, or any other specialist, this course helps you stand out by teaching the communication, collaboration, and leadership skills employers expect in today's workforce.

- University Students and Recent Graduates

If you're studying or have recently completed a degree in any field — business, economics, health, science, or humanities — this course will give you the hands-on skills employers look for, beyond what traditional degrees teach.

What are the requirements for learners?

- Computer Literacy
